You can register for the June 12th workshop at the following link: <http://www.cvent.com/d/s6q6g4>

This workshop is devoted to the “Next Generation NYSUT” initiative introduced by President Andy Pallotta at the recent NYSUT RA. It is designed to promote effective methods to engage new members in the union culture. A goal of this workshop will be to focus on educating our new members about the importance of the union movement and emphasize the importance of members assuming active roles in their union. Introducing new members to a culture of unionism is particularly important in a post-Janus environment. Best practices for implementation of a program and a buddy system will be discussed. Particularly important will be a full explanation of how to implement NYSUT’s new data procedures for new hires and new enrollees. These workshops are particularly important for local presidents, treasurers, new member coordinators or anyone else who will have responsibility for some aspect of your local’s new member induction process. This workshop will be repeated on June 26 and July 11.

This workshop is essential for new and experienced local union treasurers and recommended for all local union officers. It will take the mystery out of your fiduciary responsibility as a local union officer. You will learn new techniques that will not only make your job easier, but could save hours of your valuable time and protect your union from potentially devastating final liabilities. This workshop answers the following questions: What official financial requirements do I have as a local union officer? How do I conduct the AFT audit? Do I have to report to the IRS? What is the effect of the recent Supreme Court

Janus decision on union funds and former agency fee payers? Topics covered include Budgeting, Federal Reporting Requirements, Cash Management, Local Insurance, Audits, Internal Financial Controls, Sound Financial Practices and, if time permits, Membership Reporting.

Need Help Managing Your Student Loan Debt?

More than 44 million people in the United States are struggling to make their monthly student loan payments, and millions more see economic and personal opportunities pass them by as they prioritize paying down their debt. Does this sound like you or someone you know?

Many of these people may qualify for free federal programs that can help reduce their monthly payments and eventually lead to student loan forgiveness, but these lifeline programs are significantly under-enrolled. In an effort to help our members get access to these programs, The Nassau Regional Office in conjunction with the American Federation of Teachers are proud to host a Student Debt Clinic which will provide information on how to enroll in Income-Driven Repayment plans and Public Service Loan Forgiveness.

With college costs skyrocketing to unprecedented levels, two categories of NYSUT members struggle to avoid being overwhelmed by student debt – newer members who recently attended or are currently enrolled in college or graduate programs and middle aged members whose children are now entering higher education. Unfortunately, many members confronting this problem are unaware of the resources available to them to help manage and mitigate student debt burdens. Both of our national organizations, AFT and NEA, offer debt relief counseling and assistance. This workshop will assist members to figure out how to manage the college debt nightmare.
